"Well had the boding tremblers learned to trace The day's disaster in his morning face, Full well they laughed with counterfeited glee At all his jokes, for many a joke had he; Full well the busy whisper circling round Conveyed the dismal tidings when he frowned."

BEFORE THE SANDMAN COMES

WOULDN'T you like to be the sun? "Dear me, no! I would much rather be the sunset. I like the whole sun better than just the sun alone!"

At all his jokes, for many a joke had he; Full well the busy whisper circling round Conveyed the dismal tidings when he frowned. (Goldsmith's "Deserted Village.")

These two particular flowers who talked about the sun were cannas. Lovely white cannas that thrust their glistening petals above the green leaves like icebergs pushed out of the sea.

"But the sun is so lovely and golden," said one canna, continuing their talk. "I'd rather be yellow like that than any other color in the whole rainbow."

"I don't like red," said the first canna. "I'd rather be white!" "I'm sure I don't like yellow," the second canna assured her positively. "Very well, then," said the fairy queen, making up her mind quickly, "you may both have your wishes, and she waved her magic wand.

"How stupid you are!" cried the other. "Don't you see that yellow is the color of the sun?"

PEACE IN AMERICA GOD'S BLESSING, SAYS CARDINAL GIBBONS

Grieving Over Europe's Tragic Lot, He Praises Rescue of Tourists by U. S. Diplomats.

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—"After witnessing the sad scenes of devastation and destruction and the appalling loss of life which is now the tragic lot of a great part of Europe, we have reason to congratulate ourselves and to thank to Almighty God that our beloved country is enjoying the blessings of peace," said Cardinal Gibbons, who, with Cardinal O'Connell, returned from Naples today on the liner Canopic.

"The United States Government deserves great credit for its splendid work in facilitating the return home of so many American citizens in Europe as a result of the war. There were thousands of our fellow citizens there. Many of them had gone to Europe with only enough money to defray their regular traveling expenses and were wholly unprepared for the conditions they found there upon them."

Cardinal Gibbons and his traveling companions, accompanied by Bishop Corrigan, of Baltimore, and Monsignor Shahan, rector of the Catholic University at Washington, left Boston on the 10 o'clock train for New York.

FIGHT OVER A GIRL LEADS TO MAN'S ARREST

Denied Admittance to Her Home, Visitor Fires at Her Brothers.

A fight over a girl he knew in Selly six years ago, in which he is accused of firing three shots at her brothers, led to the arraignment today before Magistrate Carson, at the Second and Christian streets station, of John Monte, 1122 Kater street. He was held in $500 bail for court.

The girl is Miss Jennie Ross, 16 years old, 721 South Ninth street. Her brothers are John and Pietro Ross. The family came here from Italy six months ago. Monte had been here for six years. He had known Miss Ross as a child in their native land and he used this acquaintance, the girl testified, to force his attentions on her.

Monte called at the Ross house last night and was refused admittance. Then, according to the girl, he called the brothers across the street and a fight started. In the middle of it Monte is accused of drawing a revolver and firing three shots.

One bullet passed through the shirt of John Ross, just grazing the skin. Policeman Isola heard the shots and chased Monte through streets and alleys to Delhi and South streets, where he captured the man.
